

Alyson May Boger

February 25, 1957 - March 2, 2022

Alyson May Boger passed peacefully on March 2nd, 2022 at her home. She was born February 25, 1957 to Harriet and Dudley Boger in Norwalk Connecticut.

She attended Danbury High School, graduated from the University of Connecticut with her Bachelors and earned a Masters degree in Education. She served OCPS students for over 25 years as a teacher and later as a reading coach.

She was a parishioner at St. Francis Xavier Cabrini Catholic Church in Lake Nona. She was an avid quilter, baker, and chef. She will be remembered for her larger than life personality, sense of humor, and hospitable nature. She was caring, spontaneous, creative, intelligent, and always willing to listen and give sage advice. For those that knew her, you knew she was intense in her convictions, strong-willed, and sassy.

She is survived by her daughter, Shelby and son-in-law, Andrew Mease; her two sisters, Christyne and Barbara and three brothers, Richard, David and Scott; her friend James, many nieces and nephews, and her cats, Cleo and Callie. She is predeceased by her Mother and Father.

The visitation will be held on March 7th, 12:00-2:00pm at Osceola Memory Gardens located at 1717 Old Boggy Creek Road with graveside service to follow.

In lieu of flowers, a donation may be made in her honor to St. Francis Xavier Cabrini Catholic Church in Lake Nona.

I was sad to read about the passing of Alyson. I met her one day years ago when she stopped by my desk to ask about our holiday lunch and what we were serving. After that every time we chatted or I heard her voice and especially her laugh it would brighten my day. She was a force of nature and a deeply caring person. I will miss you.

“ Although I knew Alyson for a short time, I can definitely say that she was an incredible and humorous individual. As my reading tutor, she had an ability to instill in me the greatest of confidence. She would always remind me, "look for the obvious answer, and disregard it. Don't let them fool you, Jasmin." I will always remember her for sharing with me some of that New England love to this Southerner. My deepest condolences to her family. May the strength of our Lord provide you comfort.

I pray that may the Lord, give Alyson eternal rest and let perpetual light shine on them and may rest in peace.

“ Alyson was a force of nature. I loved when she would bebop into my office and we would talk about fixing the world. Her sense of humor was beyond compare, and her laugh stayed with you for hours. She had such a unique perspective on the teaching profession, and she lived her passion for education every day. Of course, she would never be called a conformist. The day she came in to work with purple hair was fantastic. She acted like nothing had happened, and played it off perfectly. I will miss Alyson dearly. She made OCPS (and the RBELC) a brighter place for everyone.

“ Yesterday, I was so sad to learn that Alyson is no longer with us. She was an incredible colleague who became a friend over the years. I looked up to her as a mentor and always enjoyed her perspective and advice. Alyson was an incredible teacher and a leader for those in her department. She freely worked with anyone who wanted to be a better, stronger educator and gave her heart to them. Never afraid to shy away from the hard points of life and work, she always found a way to help you see the issues and concerns without feeling threatened or intimidated. Her students loved her because they knew she was fair and honest with them. They knew she cared passionately about each and everyone of them and that they could count on her. The thousands of students she taught over the years are better off for having been in her classroom.

Most importantly, Alyson was a devoted family member who loved her family and daughter Shelby with no limitations! She was so proud of Shelby and delighted in catching me up on her accomplishments each time I saw her over the last few years. I know Alyson's love for Shelby will always be with her throughout the rest of her life.

My wishes to all of Alyson's family for peace during this difficult time. May you always remember the happy times with her, the laughter you shared and the many gifts she gave you.
